

5C Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship

MMUF is one of the Mellon Foundation's "premier programs and the centerpiece of the Foundation's long-term effort to help remedy the serious shortage of faculty of color in higher education." The goal of the MMUF program is to identify and support students with a demonstrated commitment to diversity and equity, and who are interested in earning a doctorate in the core fields of arts, humanities and selected social sciences to become future faculty. The Claremont Colleges MMUF program will select a new cohort of up to ten sophomores (rising juniors) in Spring 2019, with an annual cohort size of 20 juniors and seniors from across the colleges each year.

For More Information About This Program: <http://colleges.claremont.edu/mmuf/>

Contacts:

Jessica Kizer, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Sociology
jessica_kizer@pitzer.edu
909.607.3374
Broad Hall 109

Shelva Paulse, Ph.D.
Assistant Dean of Faculty for Academic Affairs
shelva_paulse@pitzer.edu
909.621.8278
Scott Hall 112