How is Financial Need Determined?

Pitzer’s Office of Financial Aid uses the information supplied on the FAFSA, CSS Profile and tax documents to determine the amount your family can contribute toward the cost of your education. Financial aid eligibility is determined by many factors, and no two families’ circumstances are exactly alike. Some factors that determine the amount of aid you receive include income, savings and investments (including real estate), household size and the number of siblings attending an undergraduate college or university.

Am I Eligible for Aid?

We are committed to meeting 100% of a student’s demonstrated financial need to ensure that Pitzer remains an affordable option for our families. We encourage all families who are interested in receiving assistance to apply for financial aid.

Use our online calculators to estimate your potential aid package. Our MyinTuition Calculator takes 5 minutes and gives you a ballpark of your aid eligibility. For a more detailed analysis, use our Net Price Calculator, which takes 20 minutes to complete.

What Types of Financial Aid are Available?

There are three types of financial aid offered at Pitzer College:

1. Grant/scholarship funds: gift aid that is based on financial need rather than merit
2. Loan funds: funds you borrow and must repay after leaving Pitzer
3. Work funds: funds you earn by working on campus during the academic year

These financial aid funds come from Pitzer College and the state and federal governments. Most financial aid packages combine these different types of aid. Pitzer students graduate with less debt than the national average. The average student loan indebtedness of students who received financial aid for four years at Pitzer and graduated in May 2019 was approximately $26,000.

How and When Do I Apply for Financial Aid for 2021–22?

All domestic applicants are required to complete both the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the CSS Profile. Undocumented students only need to complete the CSS Profile. International students only need to complete the College Board’s International Student Financial Aid Application (ISFAA).

Domestic and undocumented applicants must also submit 2019 federal income tax returns, including all schedules, statements, W-2/1099 forms and business tax returns to the College Board’s Institutional Documentation Service (IDOC) by the deadlines stated here. If admitted, international students may be required to submit tax or income documents to verify information reported on the ISFAA.
