Pitzer College

Honor Roll of Donors

1982-83

Pitzer College founded in 1963

Few people live to be 100 and still fewer people establish colleges. Russell K. Pitzer accomplished both. He founded the College which bears his name when his was eighty-five years old, and was in his hundredth year when he died on July 8, 1978.

Excerpt from Participant, the Pitzer College magazine, 1978

PARTICIPANT

The Participant is planned around general themes related to education, and features articles about the faculty, students, alumni and programs of Pitzer College. The Pitzer Participant (USPS 790-280) is published quarterly by Pitzer College, 1050 N. Mills Avenue, Claremont, Ca. 91711. Second class permit granted by Claremont, Ca. 91711.

Scott Hall 1964

". . . We are proud to have in Scott Hall the first academic building of the Pitzer College campus, a building provided by Ina Scott Pitzer and bearing her family name."

Resolution of the Pitzer College Board of Trustees

Sanborn Hall 1964

Flora Sanborn Pitzer, the first wife of Russell K. Pitzer, the man for whom the College was named, is memorialized in the name of Sanborn Hall. Sanborn was the first residence hall constructed on the Pitzer campus.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

Twenty years ago Pitzer College was, in the words of its first president, John Atherton, "built of dreams and firmly rooted in the Claremont village dump." One hundred and fifty-three students and ten faculty members ventured, that first year, to see if these dreams could be made a reality. In twenty short years, we have grown from 153 to 725 students, ten to fifty-six faculty members, and the campus from three buildings on a pile of rocks which had indeed originally been the site of the city dump, to nine structures on a landscaped campus.

From the beginning, Pitzer was — and is — people. Paradoxically, it is for this reason that we have chosen our buildings to illustrate our twentieth anniversary Honor Roll of Donors. Like a home furnished with cherished possessions, each with its own story, the Pitzer campus reflects Pitzer's people. Scott Hall, our first building, honors Ina Scott Pitzer, wife of Russell K. Pitzer and a founding trustee. The Grove House, our most recent addition, is a tangible reminder of the inventiveness of the Pitzer community, in particular its students.

Yet of course these buildings would stand empty without the continuing support of the many friends who have contributed to the College. Thanks to all of you, we are able to continue to build the Pitzer dream, to maintain and enlarge our campus facilities, to support and add to a fine faculty. Above all, your response to our special scholarship appeal, and your support of scholarships over the years, has helped us to realize the most important part of the Pitzer dream: to accept all qualified students regardless of financial background.

I look forward to sharing many future anniversaries with the Pitzer community.

Sincerely,

Frank L. Ellsworth
President and Professor of Political Studies

Fletcher Hall 1966

Fletcher Hall became the second academic building on the campus and was named in tribute to the mother of Ina Scott Pitzer.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Lee A. Jackman
Director of Development

This report reviews the important commitments made on the part of donors to Pitzer College during the past year. It was a year of significant achievements. Voluntary contributions increased by more than 80% over the preceding year, and donors increased by nearly 50%. More than $614,000 in gifts were contributed to the endowment, and gifts for the operating budget increased by 15%.

Challenge funds played a major role in increased giving. Two foundations, the Harry G. Steele Foundation of Newport Beach, California and the James Irvine Foundation, also of Newport Beach, established programs which challenged donors to increase both participation and support to Pitzer.

The Steele Foundation will contribute $1 million to Pitzer College prior to 1986, provided the College raises a like amount. Last year, the first year of the four year program, donors met the challenge and contributed more than $700,000.

The Alumni Incentive Challenge Grant, established by the Irvine Foundation, matches dollar-for-dollar total increases in alumni giving, and awards a bonus of $25 for each new alumni donor who contributes at least $10. During 1982-83, 614 alumni participated in the Irvine Challenge, 239 of whom were new donors. In recognition of the significant increases attained by alumni, the Irvine Foundation has pledged $24,664 for the first year of the program.

As a way to encourage increased giving on the part of Pitzer faculty and staff, trustees Anthony Barash and Polly Plesset established the Plesset-Barash Staff/Faculty Challenge. The response was overwhelming: a 193% increase in giving, and a 71% increase in donors. As a result, the College received nearly $10,000 in matching funds from Mr. Barash and Mrs. Plesset.

Over the past four years, significant fund-raising progress has been made. In 1979-80, the primary goals of the development program were to plan and implement a strong and consistent annual giving program (gifts for the operating budget, including scholarships), and to increase the number of donors making annual gifts to the College. Since that time, annual giving has increased by 72% and the donor base has increased by 108%. Our goals have been achieved.

"Although our fund-raising progress has been good, we cannot rest on our laurels," said Katherine Cone Keck, Chairman of the Trustee Development Committee, "We now must build the endowment of the College."

It is fitting that in this, the 20th anniversary year of Pitzer College, we are continuing to build for tomorrow.

Bernard Hall 1966

The third academic building constructed on the Pitzer campus was named in honor of Robert J. Bernard, founding trustee and the first chairman of the Pitzer College Board of Trustees.

Holden Hall 1967

". . . of all the gifts Mrs. Holden and I have made in the past thirty years, none has given us such a gratifying sense of fulfillment as our gift of Holden Hall to Pitzer College. It is like living in tomorrow."

BEQUESTS

Generous friends provide bequests to Pitzer College which ensure continuing financial support to the College. Such bequests are important to the progress of Pitzer and may be designated for general purposes, a specific academic program, scholarships, or other uses. A bequest may be used to establish a fund in one's own name or in honor of a loved one.

If you are interested in making a gift to Pitzer College by Will, the following sample may assist you and your attorney:

SAMPLE FOR GIFT BY WILL

I give to the Board of Trustees of Pitzer College, an educational institution, the sum of $ _____ (or the following described property):

The property comprising this gift may, for investment purposes, be merged with any of the general investment assets of Pitzer College, but the gift shall be entered in the College's books and records as THE _____ FUND, and shall always be so designated. The income from the fund and, at the discretion of the Board, part or all of the principal thereof, shall be used to provide support for Pitzer College.
