SOUND OFF

Keep this for reference

October 26, 1965

You must participate! This is what we have been telling new students and faculty ever since they arrived just over a month ago, but it now becomes clear that we have not let them know enough about how they may do so. There are rumbles and rumors that students aren't represented, that everything is faculty dominated, that new students have no way in which to make their concerns known.

I am personally delighted that this very real interest has developed and sorry that so many who attended the Community Council last Monday did not have time to reveal their interests. The Council has decided that any who wish to speak about anything will be placed at the top of the agenda regularly so that--if they cannot sit through the entire meeting--they may be sure of a time to speak. So, if you have anything for the agenda KAREN CUMMINS is the person whom you should contact, for she has the job of making up the agenda and posting it each Monday. Get in touch with her before Monday morning, or leave a note in her box at Sanborn. Regular meetings on Monday usually at 4:30 p.m.

This SOUND OFF will give you the names of all the individuals who belong to councils or committees. They are all your representatives, and except for a few administrative appointments, they were elected by the total community in which students far outnumber faculty, administration, and staff.

You will need to get acquainted with the way in which our community government is organized. (The Student Handbook has all the by-laws in it, but they are hard to read sometimes.) Essentially we have two Councils--Community Council and College Council. Each is made up of elected representatives plus administrative appointees.

College Council

7 members elected by the total community, including two members of the faculty.
2 members elected by the faculty
2 members appointed by the administration.

Mr. Glass, elected by the entire community, serves as chairman of the College Council and Moderator of Town Meetings. The Council meets most Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

Community Council

10 members elected by the community and one appointed by the administration. The chairman of the corridor presidents automatically becomes the 12th member of the council.

Under each of these councils there are a number of committees, their membership determined by the by-laws which provide for student, faculty, and administrative membership. The names of the committees indicate their areas of responsibility, and unless they need to hold an executive session because of the discussion of individuals, all their meetings are open to all members of the community.

College Council concerns itself primarily with educational and administrative concerns - admissions and financial aid, academic events, architecture, educational inquiry and study abroad, registration, political activities, facility development. Participation of students and faculty together in this important areas of Pitzer College life provides for unusual power in the hands of students.

Community Council is the policy-making body for community living and concerns itself with Pitzer College as a community of residents. Committees are organized to take care of social affairs, orientation, publications, budget and fund raising, rules and regulations for the residences and the supervision thereof, student services (student employment, fire safety, dining hall services, etc.)

So you see, it is all there, but it needs to be USED, to be tried out, amended, and modified in practice. Get acquainted with the students who are members of the councils and meet the faculty members who are YOUR representatives. Our government will be a good one only if you make it so. And if you get tangled in red tape, come in and let us untangle you. . .
