

Newman Civic Fellow Mentor Information

As part of the Newman Civic Fellowship all fellows identify a local mentor who serves as a resource for the the fellow during the experience. In nominating a student for the Newman Civic Fellowship, an institution commits to connecting the fellow with a local mentor. To review the criteria and expectations for mentors, please visit the Newman Civic Fellowship FAQ page. The mentors do not have to be identified by the time of nomination, but contact information for mentors must be provided to Campus Compact by April 24, 2017. If a mentor has already been identified, please provide that information below. If you need help in identifying a mentor, Tricia Morgan at the CEC will help you.

Letter of Nomination

The letter of nomination will be signed by the president or chancellor of the nominating institution (CEC will facilitate the signing). This letter should reflect the president/chancellor's intention to have this student represent the college or university in a national fellowship of community-committed students. Please include information about the nominee's approach(es) to addressing the root causes of social issues. These may include, for example, involvement in public policy reform, community organizing, community-based research, social entrepreneurship, or other efforts to build the capacity of community-based organizations. Additionally, please let us know why you believe this person has the motivation and potential to develop innovative and collaborative approaches to addressing public problems and to contribute to a network of similarly committed students.
