Weekly Spotlight: Public Citizen

PUBLICCITIZEN

Information below from the Public Citizen website.

Public Citizen is a nonprofit consumer advocacy organization that champions the public interest in the halls of power. We defend democracy, resist corporate power and work to ensure that government works for the people – not for big corporations. Founded in 1971, we now have 500,000 members and supporters throughout the country.

We don't participate in partisan political activities or endorse any candidates for elected office. We take no government or corporate money, which enables us to remain fiercely independent and call out bad actors – no matter who they are or how much power and money they have.

We use every tool at our disposal to take on big fights – and win . We mobilize activists to grow democratic movements, watchdog Congress, sue the government when it fails to do its job, petition regulatory agencies to safeguard the public and engage in cutting-edge research that effects change.

Cesar Chavez Day

March 31, colleges observe March 25

Information below from Wikipedia.

Cesar Chavez was an American labor leader and civil rights activist. Along with Dolores Huerta, he co-founded the National Farm Workers Association (NFWA), which later merged with the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee (AWOC) to become the United Farm Workers (UFW) labor union.

Cesar Chavez practiced leftist community organizing tactics to advocate for Mexican-American farmworkers. In the 1960s, he began organizing strikes among farmworkers, most notably the successful Delano grape strike of 1965–1970. Influenced by the Indian independence leader Mahatma Gandhi, Chavez emphasized direct but nonviolent tactics, including pickets and boycotts, to pressure farm owners into granting strikers' demands.

He became an icon for organized labor and leftist groups in the U.S. His birthday is a federal commemorative holiday in several U.S. states. In 1994 he posthumously received the Presidential Medal of Freedom.
