WEEKLY COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT TIP

Communicating with your Partner

As we begin our descent into the final weeks of the school year, it is important to keep in mind our commitments to our community partners. Communicating with your partner when changes arise, and preparing them for the end of the semester is vital to keeping a good relationship with the communities we work with. With that being said, being aware of what your capacity is at this time of the school year is important. Be kind to yourself, things can feel overwhelming, and might not work out how you anticipate. Communicating your capacity levels with your partner so that redistribution of the work assigned to you can begin. Our partners know we are full-time students with a lot on our plates and are understanding of this. If you need help communicating this to your partners, don't hesitate to let us know!
