Note 1: The Off-Campus F&A Rate is used when a Pitzer College project is carried out at a location that is not owned by Pitzer College. In general, only one F&A rate, either on-campus or off-campus, is applied to an extramural award made to Pitzer College. Where an extramurally funded project is carried out at both on-campus and off-campus locations, the F&A rate applied to the project is determined on the basis of where the majority of the Pitzer College effort is conducted. The portion of a project carried out by subcontractors or other non-Pitzer College collaborators is not part of this determination. Only the programmatic effort performed by Pitzer College personnel is used to make this determination. A proposal that will utilize the off-campus rate should clearly describe the project activities that qualify it for an off-campus rate. For particularly large projects with clearly identifiable on- and off-campus components, it is possible to apply multiple F&A rates. Such situations should be anticipated at the proposal stage and discussed with the Dean of Faculty and Sponsored Research Administrator prior to inclusion in the proposal.
